

Attend the Best

People that allow themselves to patronize inferior establishments expose themselves to the possibility of disappointment. This is often the case in selecting a school or college. Without stopping to investigate the claims set forth by the various institutions, many, unknowingly, perhaps, make a selection that is certain to end in disappointment.

The cause of this state of affairs usually lies in a desire to avoid expense, and, consequently, the school that advertises the lowest rates of tuition secures the pupil. But, notwithstanding the fact that a wish to economize is highly commendable and no possible objection can be made against it, the question naturally arises whether the matter of expense, especially in so important a matter as an education, ought to be made the first consideration.

After more than a third of a century of existence it is only natural that this College has won for itself a reputation for successful work in training young men and women to take their places in the offices of the business men of the community. During this period thousands of our graduates have entered business life, and by their evidence of careful preparation for their duties, have been a constant advertisement of this institution. Their employers have not failed to observe their superior qualifications, and whenever in need of trained assistants have come to regard the Dunsmore Business College as the proper place at which to apply.

The Practical Work of life calls for well-trained minds, and young people who are ambitious to succeed in life will find it necessary to have a BUSINESS EDUCATION.

Whatever is worth having is worthy of an earnest effort to secure. Get an education that can at once be applied to the practical work of life.

The Southern Seminary

BUENA VISTA, VIRGINIA

The Southern Seminary will open its forty-third session September 24, 1909, under more favorable auspices than ever before in its long and successful career. The growing recognition of the high class of work done and of its advantages of location and equipment is bringing to the Seminary the very best class of patronage, taxing for accommodation its capacity for boarders. The fact that only one hundred and twenty-five can be admitted means that these receive especial care and individual attention from the trained college and university men and women who compose the faculty of the school.

The town of Buena Vista is situated on the C. & O. and N. & W. railroads, in one of the most beautiful portions of the well-known Valley of Virginia. The Natural Bridge is within easy driving distance, and is a favorite picnic ground for parties from the Seminary. For beauty of surroundings the Seminary is unsurpassed. The building itself is an imposing structure, its handsome exterior giving promise of the wide corridors and spacious rooms that mark it as a unique home-centre for a great educational work.

Besides the four years of college preparatory work, the Southern Seminary offers two years of graduate work, bringing the student up to the junior college year. This is designed especially for those who do not expect to attend college. Special courses leading to diplomas in music, art and elocution are also given. The directors of piano, voice and violin have all studied at the Leipzig Conservatory, and are artists of a high order. Especial emphasis is laid upon the social and physical side of student life. Excellent opportunity is given to every girl to become proficient in basket-ball, tennis, riding, boating and skating. Parents who wish to send their daughters to an institution where scholarship and character building are the fundamental considerations, will at once recognize the value of the Southern Seminary upon fuller acquaintance.
